

Grave Locator

St. John the Baptist Cemetery Churchtown, Ohio

October 2012

Introduction

This booklet is designed as an aid for locating gravestones of departed friends and family members at St. John the Baptist Cemetery in three steps.

Step 1. Become familiar with the method of numbering rows of graves and the lots within the rows. As shown on the diagram on the following page, rows are numbered from 1 through 16, with Row 1 being nearest to the highway. The lots within the rows start with Lot 1 at the north end of each row (nearest the church) and continue sequentially to the south end of the row.

Step 2. Go to the section titled Name Index and find the line with the name of the person whose grave you are seeking. Make note of the row and lot number for that person. Married women are listed by their married names. The maiden names of married women are shown if they are known. Approximate years of birth and death are also shown. This feature is useful when there is more than one person by the same name interred in the cemetery. Years of birth and death are not necessarily accurate, especially for the older burials where exact dates of birth and death are uncertain.

Step 3. Proceed to the north end of the cemetery, find the row of interest and then walk straight down the row until reaching the lot of interest. It will usually be helpful to find the proper row in the section titled Row Data and follow the list while walking down the row.

Some cautions need to be observed.

- This booklet is not intended as a source of genealogical information. The information given here is only detailed enough to find a given grave, and it assumes that the seeker has already consulted other sources or has personal knowledge of the person whose grave is being sought. Julia A. Engle and Ernest Thode have done extensive research on families interred in the cemetery. Mr. Thode is a reliable source of information and may be contacted at the Washington County Public Library, Local History and Genealogy Department, 418 Washington St., Marietta, OH 45750, phone (740) 376-2172.
- Lot numbering is irregular, especially in the older part of the cemetery. For instance, Lot 30 in Row 7 is not necessarily lined up with Lot 30 in Row 8.
- Family names are often found with several variations of spelling. The names in this booklet generally reflect the spelling found on cemetery headstones. If a search for a specific name in the index is unsuccessful, try searching on alternative spellings, e.g., Vonderau/Fonderau, Gephart/Gebhart, McCarthy/McCarty and Dunigan/Dunican.
- At least ten headstones show years of death prior to 1866, the year that St. John the Baptist Church was built. All these graves are clustered together near the middle of Row 6 or immediately to the east or west of the cluster. This shows that local Catholic families used the site for burials even before the construction of the church itself.

This edition supersedes the edition dated November 2009. The compiler hopes to update this booklet from time to time, and will be pleased to receive comments and recommendations for improving its usefulness.
